Re: Students and Staff Who Excel

Date: November 3, 2015

At the meeting on November 9, we will recognize four GBS freshmen for their first place finish in the Northern Illinois University Huskie Hackathon, during our Students and Staff Who Excel segment.

This is the first time GBS students have participated in such as event, which called for 24 consecutive hours of researching and creating a program, app, or website to address a community issue.

The GBS team included Ahmed Malik, Nicholas Ermolov, Matthew Moran and Jesus Crespo. These students, their parents, and engineering teacher Michael Sinda have been invited to attend the recognition.
