Re: Students and Staff Who Excel

Date: February 9, 2009

Off-Campus teacher Mike Yacullo and psychologist Lisa Harper will be recognized for the specialized program they created to serve the unique needs of autistic students. In addition to Yacullo and Harper, three students who are benefitting from the program will be present, along with their parents. The newly created program not only serves the needs of the intended students but also facilitated the smooth operation of the autism program that is held at Off-Campus. Dr. George Tuttle and others will also be in attendance.
